A BRAVE WOMAN'S FIGHT WITH A THIEF. DRAGGED DOWN STAIRS HEAD FIRST-LOOKING WITH CONTEMPT ON HIS REVOLVER.

Mrs. Liebbauser, the wife of a prosperons baker living at No. 281 Planest. Newark, gave proof of extraordinary nerve on Saturday night. Mrs. Liebbauser is an Irishwoman, and her husband is a German. She is latge and muscular. On Saturday night, after she had put her three children to bed, her husband went out to take a walk. Shortly afterwards she heard heavy steps in the children's room. Suspecting that thieves had entered the house, she emptied the contents of the money drawer into her handkerchief, which she placed in her pocket, and then started up stairs.

Arriving at the top of the stairs, she tried the door of the bedroom and found it unlocked. Upon pushing the door open she was sindlenly confronted by two men, one of whom, with his arms full of clething, rushed past her down the stairs. Mrs. Liebhauser immediately grappied with the other man, dragged him into the hall, and cried for help. The man struggled violently and succeeded in freeing himself from her grasp, and the woman fell, but she cla-ped her arms about his legs. In this manner, she cluing to him while he dragged her down stairs head first. When the foot of the stairs was reached, she regained her feet and secured a second hold on the man. A moment afterward, Mr. and Mis. Connerson, who are tenatis on the third floor and had heard her cries, came to her aid, and the thief was secured.

When he found that there was no e case, the herson, who are tenants on the third floor and had heard her cries, came to her aid, and the taicf was secured.

When he found that there was no e case, the third begged to be released and gave up a gold watch and chain, some jeweiry, two or three pocket-books and several other articles.

The reliow finally became threatening and exhibited a seven-chambered revolver, which was loaded. Mrs. Liebnauser expressed her contempt for the weapon, and with the asistance of her tenants dragged the man into the sitting-room back of the store. A young man came in while the thief was being overpowered and he was sent to get a police officer, who arrived soon afterward and took the prisoner to the Second Precinct Police Station. Here he said that his name was George O'Brien, and that he lived in Brooklyn. The police said, nowever, that his name was Suepherd and that he lived in Newark, and was one of a gang of professional sneak thieves who had been operating very extensively in that city of late. He is about twenty-one years old, of good appearance and well dressed. His accomplices got away with some salk garments and articles of small value. The wardrobe and bureau drawers had been entirely cleaned out. It is believed that the thieves had several confederates watching outside. Mr. Liebhauser had collected a considerable sum of money in the day, and it is supposed that the thieves were aware of this and laid their plans accordingly.

SAFETY IN HOTELS AND THEATRES.

Inspector Esterbrook, of the Bureau of Buildings, yesterday sent notices to the owners of three hotels—the Hotel Devonshire, No. 30 East Forty-secondst; the West Side Hotel, at Sixth-ave, and Fliteenth-st., and Scott & Earle's Hotel, at Sixth-ave, and Clinton-place. The Hotel Devonshire, which extends from Forty-second-st, through the block to Forty-first-st., is leased and managed by James M. Pattee & Co. The owners of the building are in Europe. Silas G. Hyatt, of No. 1,675 Broadway, who is the agent of the property, is directed to provide outside fire-escapes as follows:
One on the front on Forty-second-st., taking in the two One on the front on Forty-second st., taking in the two centre windows, and one on the front on Forty first-st. taking in the two casterly windows, with balconies and ladders for each story, and drop landers from the lower balconies to the ground.

ladders for each story, and drop ladders from the lower balconies to the ground.

The West Sida Hotel is owned by the estate of A. Meiville, and Captain Meiville, the executor of the estate, lives at Sailor's Sang Harbor, Staten Island. It is directed that doors be cut through the partitions near the Sixth-ave, front of the building and that fire escapes be placed on both the Saxth-ave, and the Fitteenth-st, fronts Similar directions are given in regard to Scott & Earle's Hotel, but as the building is only four stories high and not very large, Mr. Esterbrook does not require balconies on the first story. The iron drop-ladders are to be attached to the balconies on the second story.

Mr. Esterbrook also sent out an order in regard to the Alcazar building, at Broadway and Forty-first-st., which is being transformed into a theatre. Sylvester M. Hickey, who lives at the Sturievaut House, is the lessee of the building. The order is addressed to him and reads as follows:

You are hereby directed to build a brick wall between

You are hereby directed to build a brick wall between the auditorium and the singe, to connect with the northerly and southerly walls of the building, the wall to be 16 inches thick up to the level of the singe, and thence to the height of four feet above the root, to be 12 inches thick and coped with stone, according to law. The wall above the stage opening is to be carried on a proper arch, with the rods secured to proper skewbacks, if necessary, or an iron girder. If preferred, the wall above the stage level may be built up to the under side of the roof with hollow burnt brickin two thicknesses of six inches each, well bonded. Any opening which it may be necessary to have in the wall must have iron doors on each side of the wall, made to open from either side. You are also directed to have skylights in the roof over the singe, equal in area to 192 superficial reet, and made so as to open instancty on the burning or cutting of a hempen cord.

CALLED TO DR. BELLOWS'S PULPIT.

The pulpit of All Sonis' Unitarian Church, at Twentietn-st. and Fourth-ave., which has been vacant since the death of the Rev. Pr. Henry W. Beilows, about a year ago, is likely soon to be filled. A call has been extended to the Rev. Francis B. Hombrooke, of Newton, Mass., and it is hoped that he will accept. The animal meeting of the society of the church was held on last Tuesday evening, when the matter of selecting a successor to Dr. Beilows was discussed. One or two bailots were taken to determine the choice, which resulted so largely in favor of Mr. Hornbrooke that a motion to invite him to beceme the pastor of the church was carried unanimonally. The call was formally drawn up, and yesterday a delegation, consisting of J. Harsen Rhoades, president, and other members of the Board of Trustees, proceeded to Newton with the official invitation.

Dorman B. Eaton, of No. 2 East Twenty-minth-st., one of the members of the church said to a Trimuna become this matter until we have heard whether Mr. Hornbrooke will accept our invitation. He has preached for us two or three times within the past few months and has given general satisfaction to our people. We cordinally hope that he will accept. Mr. Hornbrooke is between thirty and thirty-rive years of age. He has been in the Unitarian ministry some ten or twelve years, and I think he was pastor of a small church previous to his going to Newton. There he has a fine church and a large congregation. He is a man of great power, a good speaker and a lard worker. He is of an earnest Caristian spirit, and standay for the cord. Bellows."

Thomas Fitzgerald, age nineteen, a good looking and neatly dressed young man, was sarraigned before Justice Power yeaterday in the Tombs Police Court on a charge of a felomous assault upon Mary Airee Moss, age seventeen, who lives with her family at No. 31 Pell-st, and with whom he had been on affectionate terms since they were schoolmates, by stabbing her in the arm and breast with an ordinary carving knife on Suaday evening, the had been admitted to a final interview with her. On being taken to the station the prisoner said that he intended to take the life of Miss Moss. Her brothers, Joseph and James Moss, lawyers, appeared in court to prosecute the charge against the prisoner. They are members of the Cauren of the Transagaration in Mott-st. Fitzgerald was committed to await the result of the injuries inflicted. The young woman, who is very prepossessing to manner and appearance, is now under surgical treatment.

YOUNG RINER FOUND BY HIS FATHER.

Everett Riner, the boy who ran away from his bome in Richmond, lad., last week, and was forlowed to this city by his father, R. M. Riner, was found by the police yesterday in a West-st, hotel. Mr. Riner will start for Indiana with his sen this morning. He said to a Tarbune reporter yester ay: "Everett was going to school at Oxford, Ohio, and he left the place because he became homesick. Fearing that I would punish him he pawied his gold watch and purchased a ticket for New-York. He alterward sent me a telegram informing ne where the watch was. I had given the watch to him as a Christmas present. The published statement that Everett stole articles from members of the family is untrue. So far as I know, my son never stole anything." MR. WALCOTT APPEARS PENITENT.

When Mr. Wolcott strolled into "Gales" Case's hotel yesterday afternoon he cazed meditatively at the row of sparklag decauters on the bar, and siched. He looked at Mr. Case to see if there was not some gleam of sympathy in his eyes, but there was not some gleam of sympathy in his eyes, but there was not some gleam of sympathy in his eyes, but there was none. The enviable reputation for punctuality and sobriety which Mr. Walcott had acquired up to the time he had sat down to dissect his fifteenth brace of quail had been sullied by his apparent "grogginess" on Sunday, when he took the arm of "Charley," the waiter, and walked out into the cold calm aft to find an appetite. But yesterday Lo "came up smiling to his sixteenth brace," as a person who is deeply interested in Mr. Walcott's success in devouring the sixty quail in thirty consecutive days expressed it. As the clock struck the hour of 4, the quail-eater appeared among his friends. The birds were not quite ready, but at 4:12 "Charley" et.tered the room, bearing on a tray a brace of nicely broiled quait, a plate of boiled onions, a dish of lyonnaise potatoes, and a few French peas. At 4:13:330 Mr. Walcott put the thigh of one of the birds between his teeth and slowly closed his eyes. He became pale. It was not because of his relish of the dainty morsel, for Mr. Case observed, with a suggestive glance, "the sweakening." Mr. Walcott did, not pick the benes as cleanty as he has done before, and it was not until 4:21's, or eight minutes after he had begun his first bird, that its skeleton was lying on the plate. The second quail Mr. Walcott did not finish eating until 4:30: making the time consumed in devouring the brace 10's minutes. He did not attempt to make an inroad on the inviting vegetables that stood before him, but when he had placed the last delicate bone of the pair of birds upon his piate he rose from his seat, wiped his fingers carefully unon his CONFIDENCE EXPRESSED IN MR. WOOD.

Edward A. Wood, secretary of the New-York Mining Stock Exchange, who was robbed on Thursday last of $400, has asked for an official in-Hinning Stock Exchange, who was robbed out Thursday last of $400, has asked for an official investigation into the circumstances of the robbery. Mr. Wood's notice has been taken in view of the unfavorable reports which some persons have circubated regarding the affair. The president of the Exchange vesterday appointed R. H. Cook. Heber Dautham and J. F. Scott as a sub-committee of the Governing Committee to make the investigation. Their report will be submitted at the meeting of the Governors on next Friday. Mr. Wood is held in high esteem by the members of the Exchange, who are unanimous in their belief that he was the victim of a shameful outrage. He has done business in mining circles for many years, and his business associates vesterday viod with his warmest friends in testifying to his integrity and problicy. All suggestions that might tend to cast a saspicton upon the secretary are indignantly rejected by them.

The police have practically abandoned any theory that they may have entertained at first that no robbery was committed. Captain Cafrey, of the First Precinct, and yesterday that not the slightest clow had been obtained as to the thief, on account of the peculiar circumstances of the assault. He said: "After I found out that Mr. Wood was well and favorably known in the street, and could bring innearons testimonials as to the esteen in which he was held by those who had had business transactions with him, while the fact that he was possessed of moderate means that would permit him to replace the stolen money without examping himself removed any motive for his taking the money, the affair assumed a different aspect." ARREST OF WEDDING THIEVES

ARREST OF WEDDING THIEVES.

A handsome scalskin cloak, valued at $1,500, was stoien on December 26 from Mrs. Sheldon, of Philadelphia, while she was attending the wedding of Miss Nettle E. Brown and J. Wood Hitcheack in the Church of the Incarnation. The cloak had been left in the charge of the sexton in the vestibule during the ceremony. A well-dressed young man came for it for "his lady friend," end the sexton unsuspectingly delivered it to him. Inspector Byrues has sent three detectives to each of the fashionable weddings that have been held uptown since then. In that way he got on the track of the thieves, who, it seems, attend weddings for a live-lihood. On Friday night Detectives Slevin and O'Connor arrested Thomas Shortell, who was once a conductor on the Sixth Avenue surface railroad. Shortell is twenty-fourfycers old and lives at No. 229 East Seventy-fifth st. Vesterday the detectives arrested as accomplices Benjamin E. Bagley, of No. 105 West Porty-litst-st., who says that he is a speculator, and John T. Sullivan, a clerk in the Paisley House, at Twenty-eighth st. and Sixth-ave. Shortell confessed the their of the cloak. The prisoners were locked up in Police Headquarters last night, and will be arrangued in court to-day. Bagley has only recently finished a five-years term in Sing Sing for stealing a fur cloak from the Sturtevant House.

A NEW OFFICE FOR CABLE MESSAGES.
An office for the receipt of cable messages will be opened by the United States Direct and the French Cable Companies, at No. 40. Broadway, today. These companies will receive there the dispatches offered to them by any land lines and it is expected that the opening of the office will make the laying of other Atlatic cables unnecessary.

The pooling arrangement which was entered into some ments ago by the several companies will not be disturbed by this opening of an independent office by two of the pooled lines. The dispatches of other land lines than the Western Union Telegraph Company will be received at this office, but the samings of the different lines will be divided according to the previous agreement.

The man whose extinuition, as being Major Frederick Roth, the defaulting tax collector at Berne, Switzerland, is sought by the Swiss Consul, was taken before Judge Brown, of the United States District Coart, vesterday, and was discharged on a witt of certiorari. The prisoner, who now gives his mane as Jains Schwaver, was immediately rearrested on another warrant and taken before Commissioner Osborn. An application was then made by the prisoner's counsel for his discharge, on the ground that the time that the oftene was committed war not stated in the new warrant. The counsel for the Swiss Consul argued spains the motion. While the argument was proceeding Commissioner Osborn was preparing a third warrant, which he handed to Deputy Marshall Bernhard. He then discharged the prisoner, who was immediately reariessed and held for further examination on the arrival of affidavits from Switzerland.

Theodore Hedges, captain of the bark Lottie Moore, lying at the foot of Washington-st., with a cargo of raw sugar for Matthiessen & Wicchers, was arrested on Sanday night by Detectives Pearson and Howe, on a charge of smuggling. He had in his possession several bottles of alleged contraband liquor. The prisoner was held for examination. NEW-JERSEY.

PATERSON.—The first new case of smallpox since January 5 was reported to the Board of Health yesterday.

LITTLE FALLS.—Hornee Spear, age twelve, who lived near Little Falls, was stealing rides on Sunday, with a number of companions, on trains on the Montelair and Greenwood Lake Railroad, when he fell from a car to the ground and was killed instantly. WESTCHESTER COUNTY.

NEW-ROCHELLE.—Three burglaries were commit-ted on Samuay night. The store of Edward Lamb-den was broken into and robbed of about $6 in money. The dry goods store of E. Clark was en-tered and robbed of some goods of Intie value, and the house of Mrs. Griffin, in Huguenot-st, was entered, but the burglars got acthing.

LONG ISLAND.

Long Island City.—In athe Queens County Curonit Court the case of The People against Heary S. De Bovoise, in the suit to recover $108,000, was called. Judge Cul-n stated that he had received the report of A. N. Miller, the referree appointed to take the testimony of the expert, C. P. Summer. Representatives of both parties to the suit went to the hospital where Mr. Summer is under treatment, on Saturday last, for the purpose of taking his testimony, as directed by the Court, but Mr. Summer refused to testify. An adjournment until next Monday was agreed upon.

The Board of Police held a meeting last night to examine the methods adopted by Hugh Hagan, Boiler inspector of the city. It was stated that certificates were issued to men who employed others to do the work. Inspector Hagan appeared before the Board last night and acknowledged that he knew of cases where the system was carried out. President McGee asked him if he nad ever made a report of such cases to the Board. He admitted that he had not. The Commissioners decided that every applicant whose certificate had been presented by the Inspector to the Board for the signatures of the members should be examined as to his qualification to act as engineer.

THE ANIMAL SHOT BY A PATROLMAN.

SEVERAL PERSONS SAID TO HAVE BEEN BITTEN—
ONE MAN SHOT ACCIDENTALLY.

Patrolman Patrick Magnire, of the Prince Street
Police, while on mis post in Greene-st., at 9 a. m. yesterday, heard shouts for assistance in Broomest., and ran to answer the summons. He saw several men running away from a large black and white dog which was snarking at a laborer in front of W. H. DeForrest's sirk store at Ne. 466 Broome-st. The dog appeared to be mad, and the laborer, who had fallen on the sidewark, was kickmag at it vigorousity to keep it at bay, Magnire Struck the dog with his cluo so hard that it fell into the gatter. The laborer sprang to his feet and ran away, ite looked as if he were frightened badiy, and his clothing was torn, but he made no complaint of having been bitten.

Suddenly the dog made a dive for the front door of the store, where Charles Rounds, a porter, stood looking out. Rounds retreated and closed the door, which caught the animal by the neck. Had he held the door fast the dog a ight have been shot without further trouble, but he kecked it in the head and forced it back into the street. "Shoot the dog," he cried out to the policeman, "it's mad. We had lots of trouble in getting it out of here."

Two men were passing the store at the time. One of them was attacked by the dog, but he jumped over an iron rading and saved humself from being intien. The dogsthen furned upon the other man, who escaped by running into a neighboring half. Magnire drew his pistol and shot at the dog, hitting it in the force leg.
The entaged botte made a spring at the peliceman, but received another ballet in the jaw, and fell on the stockada. A third buillet from the onlicer's platoi went through its body and killed it.

Just then a cry was heard a new yards distant, and a man in working clothes was seen holding one hand to his bloody cheek. A hallet fired by the policeman at the dog, had rebounded from the payenment and had struck the man in the face, inflicting a painful but wed rhoid,

had a lit.

A hander, who said that he was Leonard Laykuf, of No. 552 West Thirty-eighth-se, went to the Prince Ser-et Police Station just before noon, and soow d a slight wound on the arm, which, he said, and been hintered by the dog before the policeman appeared in front of the store. His wound was dre-sed at the station by Police Surgeon Cook.

THE GOOD OLD DAYS IN GEORGIA.

"No. sir," continued the early settler, "I came here 'fore the woods was burned. I like the freedom of the fronter, and I know I would not feel at home in the singlet of a city. I was born within sight of rome Mountain, in Georgia, when the linding were that same as they are on the fronter now. See that scat?"

The early settler took off his hat and showed as a heavy sear running from the top of his head

The early settler took oil his hat and showed as a heavy sear running from the top of his head almost to his left eyebrow. "That thar is what I got from an Indian tomahawk when I was about three years old. My oldest brother was killed, and my father was runnin' to hide in a cern-held, with me in his arms, when I got that. The old man had an axe in his hand and he split the redskin's head clear to the teeth. Not much civilization 'bout them diggings, no. sir."

"Not much style about those early Georgian ploneers, I reckon." said the reporter.

"Style! Why, I was twelve years old when I got my first pair of hoots. Don't I remember them yailer tops! Folks in them patts mostly tanned their own leather, but them was genums store leather. They got me into two fights. I had to fight with two other boys the first day I put'em on, and water. We only got coffee on Sundays, but we had whiskey all the time, and it was whiskey as was whiskey—not the adulterated pizen they call by that name now. You could have got fullern a goose on it, and it wouldn't hurt you."

As the early settle; said this, he sighed, wiped his mouth on his shirt sleeve, and shook his head in a regretful sort of a way, indicating his belief that those good old days when whiskey actually "sloshed around" were gone.

OF THE NERVOUS SYSTEM.

The power of the nervous system, over life and happiness, is thoroughly tweognized; and the danger of overtaxing it, by intense mental application or excessive indulgence of the appelites and proposities, is of vital importance. Whehlit is deranged, it is necessary to seek advice from an expert who has devoted his attention to its study, and who, from experience, has learned to discover the cause and apply the
